

Keep track of parcels and packages delivered to your business

Keep track of important parcels and packages delivered into your business with Neopost's new mail and package tracking software – Track Inside.

Barcode technology and handheld terminals track letters and packages as they enter and move through your business. The status of each item is monitored during receipt into the mailroom, transit and delivery.

Each package can be tracked from delivery to final the final recipient with the capture of proof of delivery and/or picture.

The benefits of Track Inside software include:

Automate the time-consuming and manual processing of incoming parcel deliveries.

Improve productivity – save time checking deliveries, locating items, and advising status to recipient.

Satisfy customers – speed up internal delivery, control losses or delays, inform recipients and respond quickly and accurately to enquiries.

Track and locate exactly where an item is within your business

Save time checking deliveries and locating items and advising recipients of their status.

Easy to implement – cloud-based and hosted software requires no IT infrastructure investment or software installation on work stations.
