

Top ten humorous calls to 999

BT's 999 advisors are an extremely capable and committed team and answer a wide variety of serious calls, but we asked them to send us the most humorous calls that they have received – here's the top ten.

Advisor: "Do you need fire, police or ambulance?"

Caller: "I'm sorry to call 999 but I was looking for 101 but I don't know the number."

Advisor: "Do you need fire, police or ambulance?"

Young caller: "Mountain Rescue please."

Advisor: "Where are you?"

Young caller: "I'm on the top bunk and I can't get down."

Advisor: "Do you need fire, police or ambulance?"

Caller: "I need the police please it is my daughter's wedding day and her dress doesn't fit anymore. I need the police to come and help me get her in it."

Advisor: "Do you need fire, police or ambulance?"

Caller: "I need the police, I ordered a takeaway that cost me £30 and they took it to number six, when I live at number seven."

Advisor: "Do you need fire, police or ambulance?"

Caller: "My laptop password won't work, I need you to reset it for me."

Advisor: "That's not something we can help with."

Caller: "Can you call my service provider and get them to ring me back?"

Advisor: "Do you need fire, police or ambulance?"

Caller: "I need an ambulance, my husband has lost his pyjamas and he cannot breathe without them."

Advisor: "Do you need fire, police or ambulance?"

Caller: "Well it's quite urgent my Rabbit has escaped, I need help."

Advisor: "Do you need fire, police or ambulance?"

Caller: "Can I get the Police, someone has stolen my snowman from my garden, can you come quickly?"

Advisor: "Do you need fire, police or ambulance?"

Caller: "I need to cancel my hairdressers' appointment, it's an emergency and I can't get through to the salon."

Advisor: "Do you need fire, police or ambulance?"

Caller: "There's a seagull with a broken arm."